北京四通桥革命

On October 13th 2022, a protestor hung two large banners on Beijing Sitong Bridge and started thick smoke by burning tires; meanwhile, there was a loudspeaker reading the banners. One of the banner reads, "go on strike, remove dictator and national traitor Xi Jinping." The other one reads, "Say no to covid test, yes to food; no to lockdown, yes to freedom; no to lies, yes to dignity; no to Cultural Revolution, yes to reform; no to dictator, yes to election; don't be a slave, be a citizen."

Soon, the protestor was arrested and all mentions and images on Chinese social media have been censored and blocked. Now, no information regarding the incident can be found on Chinese Internet.
